

Packing service is priced with the following criteria in mind:

Number of packing staff required, and time it will take.

Building access, and location

Packing materials - types and amount required.

Trash disposal, and other associated services.

As packing requirements differ considerably pricing also varies.